One of the primary purposes of cookies is to provide a convenience feature to save you time. The purpose of a cookie is to tell the Web server that you have returned to a specific page. For example, if you personalize CJDM pages, or register with CJDM site or services, a cookie helps CJDM to recall your specific information on subsequent visits. When you return to the same CJDM website, the information you previously provided can be retrieved, so you can easily use the CJDM features that you customized.

You have the ability to accept or decline cookies. Most Web browsers automatically accept cookies, but you can usually modify your browser setting to decline cookies if you prefer. If you choose to decline cookies, you may not be able to fully experience the interactive features of the CJDM services or websites you visit.
